

Indigenous Educator

Casual Contract, PT
$20/hour, 7 hrs/week

Touchstones Nelson: Museum of Art and History is changing its educational programming to better reflect an Indigenous worldview and is seeking an Indigenous Educator to join its team to develop new educational programs and lead school tours throughout the school year. Specific hours will be determined through the development of the work plan, the Indigenous Educator's schedule, and the needs of the museum.

We are committed to answering the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada's Calls to Action for Museums, Archives, Galleries and Educational Institutions, as well as following the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

Responsibilities

- Facilitate and foster ongoing relationships with Indigenous Nations, communities, organizations and individuals in our region
- Give tours of our museum to groups of school children during school hours
- Work collaboratively with the Executive Director, Program Coordinators, and staff to support the implementation of the goals and strategic direction of the organization and education department
- Develop resource materials for resource toolkits and professional development workshops for local teachers

Attributes

- Demonstrated working knowledge of Indigenous educational resources, history and experiences
- Experience working with students or youth
- Strong effective communication, team leadership and conflict resolution skills
- Excellent organizational and time management skills
- Strong group management and public speaking skills
- Criminal Record Check

Application deadline: August 16, 2019
